

GRADO ZERO ESPACE_The Aerogel jacket uses aerogel, the lightest solid in the world — so light that in its purest form it can float on air. It is also highly insulating with an excellent weight to heat insulation ratio. The technology has been used by the ESA with this jacket produced as part of a collaboration between the European Space Agency and Grado Zero Espace.